"I recieved my cover yesterday. I was very explicid as to how I wanted it done. But, what I got was not quite what I had in mind. It was actually better!! The woman on the front cover completely represents the main character of my story! (Zora: The Raven of the Light) This woman on the cover IS ZORA!! I'm very pleased indeed!" "

" "I am so humbled that you choose my book "A Unique Bunny" for your uplifting book of the week. You have been the best in my book always for publishing. I am so grateful for the friend of an acquaintance who had passed away about a year after she had first told me about Publish America. Then the acquaintance herself mentioned that she had also been published by your great team and to give you a try. I have two books published by you and the experience has been so remarkable and rewarding. It has been a true blessing to have met some of the other talented and creative authors from this site and also in groups such as Florida Writer's Association, Wizards of Words and a new Writer's Christian group forming in the West Coast of Florida area. Through all of the ups and downs, laughs and tears, this has been the most incredible experience in my life. Thank you Publish America for giving me a chance. Thank you for allowing me to have my most precious dream come true. To all inspiring authors—never give up. For me time, patience and Faith in God has been the most humbling growth. There is always a spark of light even in the darkest of times. Never give up. Never allow anyone to snatch or stomp your dreams away. Ignor all the negatives and know that God (or whatever your faith is) is there standing by you believing in your worth—who you are—who you are ment to be. We all have a purpose in life. Mine is ministry and to give hope, faith and love to those who are hurting. Always remember WORDS ARE POWERFUL. I wish all of my fellow authors and friends the best. Being an author has been rich in knowledge. There was a time when I would feel sad if my royalty check was only $20.00. It isn't about the money. It's about the growth and learning of who we are and for me where I stand in my faith. The friends that have been made are priceless. Believing in a company (PA) that some trashed was worth sticking through it, because Publish America may have made some errors (as humans we do), but it cares about it's authors. In the three years that I have known them they have always been kind and considerate. Many of the PA staff has more patience then ever imagined. Blessings to all of you. I am so blessed today. Thank you again PA. You are my first love and wherever the road takes me on this quest as an author...you will NEVER be forgotten." "

" "When PA published my children's book, The Purple Scarf, it was like a dream come true. Since then, my newspaper, The Oakland Press, Hometown edition for Waterford/Clarkston area interviewed me and wrote a two-page story on my and my book. In addition, I had a reading at the Ferndale Public Library, where a photographer from the local newspaper came and took lots of pictures. I feel like a celebrity! Thanks PA!" "

" "A few copies of my book, Among Men came home today. PA did a fantastic job. The ones provided by my previous publisher down to my fellow authors, have been amazing. It's an amazing journey we've been on through PA has given a voice to many who've been overlooked by a publisher. For this, we are all grateful." "

"My book is getting ready to enter the pre-production stage and I am already excited about the final product. I am thankful to Tyler who has worked closely with me in getting all the materials together for the book and even though I was a little sceptic at first, I realize that many of the big name publishers are against PA because they give your work a chance while the others charge you thousands of dollars before you even set your foot through the door. Thanks PA for continuing to give Authors an opportunity to be heard who other wise would not have been heard. May the Lord Jesus continue to richly bless and use you to help the unknown." "
